or put under UNPROFOR control by 7:00 pm EST Sunday will be subject to attack. ~~(S)~~

- We welcome Russian help in gaining Bosnian Serb promise to comply with NATO's ultimatum, but need to see results on the ground. Not willing to re-negotiate NATO's deadline. ~~(S)~~
- Bill Perry and Shali's meeting with French, British, Dutch and Italian opposite numbers in Aviano Sunday will review contingency planning with participating allies but not reopen decisions. ~~(S)~~

Diplomacy

- Demarches will be made to the Serbs about the dangers of retaliation against UNPROFOR or civilians and to the Bosnian government about the damage to its international support if it fails to turn in its (few) heavy weapons or takes advantage of NATO's action to raise its negotiating demands or seize battlefield advantage in the Sarajevo region. ~~(S)~~
- Secretary Christopher will write NATO foreign ministers on the need for NATO firmness and unity and telephone those whose governments may need stiffening. ~~(S)~~
- Agreed to hold off on decision on Presidential calls to Kohl, Yeltsin, Major, Boutros-Ghali and Ciampi (if we expect to be using Italian bases for air strikes). ~~(S)~~
- Secretary Christopher and Ambassador Albright will clarify with Boutros-Ghali the consequences for U.S./UN relations if he withholds authority. ~~(S)~~
- Ambassador Albright will continue working for a statement by concerned Security Council members (U.S., UK, France, Russia and Spain) that can help Yeltsin without weakening NATO's ultimatum. ~~(S)~~
- To bring Russia constructively into the negotiations, Secretary Christopher may invite Kozyrev to Washington. Steve Oxman also may meet with his key West Europeans and Russian counterparts. ~~(S)~~
- State will prepare a letter from the President to Tudjman urging his cooperation in the negotiations. ~~(S)~~
- Secretary Christopher and Anthony Lake and possibly Vice President Gore will see Bosnian Prime Minister Silajdzic in Washington next week. We may invite Croatian Foreign Minister Granic at the same time if it seems that would be productive. ~~(S)~~
